Glimpses of Indian Life.

(NO. III.)

Christmas on the Reserve.

As Christmas drew near, the Indians hereabout became very anxious to know when the "hyas Sunday" would come, and it seems they have been in the habit of celebrating the day as one of festival in years past. Monday they employed themselves in building a house to answer their purpose during the holidays. Tuesday they spent in killing and dividing five beeves given to them by the benevolent Uncle Sam, and Wednesday they were arrayed in all their barbarous finery, and going through their various performances.

When I saw them they were gathered in the large cloth house built for the purpose, there was a fire in the centre, and on one side were gathered the musicians whose faces were painted in every imaginable degree of hideousness, and even frequently their hair was powdered or stained to make the deformity complete. The leaders were half a dozen fellows with something like a tamborine in hand which they beat in unison as an accom-and Stripes upon the breeze in gallant style, and no small pattern either, but a large and handsome one of the real bunting, which few of us had any idea they ever possessed.

Slavery you see has not demoralized them, and they can be counted true to the Union.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JAN 8 1862

Virginia Democracy

At our last dates the Virginia Convention was still in session, and was engaged in perfecting a constitution for that State A report to the Convention by a committee—which had received the favorable notice of that body—takes the ground that free suffrage in the Northern States has given too much preponderance to the element of labor, and that this state of things had divided society into two classes, and arrayed the one against the other It says that the system of free schools, by which the children of the poor are educated at the expense of the rich, ripens into agrarianism and licentiousness, and produces a habitual disregard of religion and of the institution of matrimony That the tendency of free suffrage is to demoralize the masses, to encourage the habit of office seeking, and to foster corruption at the polls; and that its bitter fruits are in the course of development at the North. That in electing officers—which are now mostly elected by the people—material changes should be made "The legislative powers should be elected by a direct vote of the people. and "as a general rule, it would be much safer for the people to elect, in the mode prescribed by law, representatives in whose ability, integrity and patriotism they could confide, and leave to them the duty, not merely of framing the laws, but also of selecting the higher officers, to expound and execute them."

The report is written very cautiously, but it is obvious that its design is to establish the principle that capital shall control labor—that free schools shall be struck down—that free suffrage shall not be permitted—that the people shall be disfranchised, and, in a word, upon this point, the legislature is to be elected by capital, that it is to enact all laws and appoint all the officers necessary to carry them out—leaving to the poor whites the privilege of laboring for those who would thus claim to be their masters!

This is the latest edition of Virginia secession democracy

Facts and Speculations

The flag of the Union has now been re-established in all the rebel States except two—Alabama and Arkansas It waves in Texas, opposite El Paso, on Ship Island, in Mississippi; at Pensacola and Key West in Florida, at the mouth of the river below New Orleans, in Louisiana, on the Island of Tybee, in Georgia, at Port Royal and St Helena, in South Carolina; at Hatteras in North Carolina, at Elizabethtown and Bristol, in Tennessee, over half of Virginia, over two-thirds of Missouri and Kentucky, and over all of Maryland and Delaware Our troops are steadily and surely advancing so that in less than one month the Stars and Stripes will again be seen floating in Alabama and Arkansas, and in all of those States where they are not now established provisional governments will soon be organized, and the central governments will be again legally and formally recognized

The rebel army is fast weakening and giving way before the grand advance of our armies all along the lines, from the Atlantic coast to the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains

In the face of these great facts, and in view of the repeated boast of Jeff Davis and the other rebel leaders in the last [illegible], that the rebel armies would invade the North, lay waste our [illegible] and towns [illegible] burn Cincinnati, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, let it be remembered that not [illegible] rebel soldier has yet [illegible] tory in a single free State [illegible]

Dr Nowell of Champoeg, [illegible] gives it as his opinion that the Salmon river mines cannot be reached by any direct route from the Grand Ronde

Items

There was a tremendous demonstration in Dublin on the 7th November, in honor of the patriot Terrence Bellew M Manus It is said that 50 000 persons were present. The speeches expressed, in burning words, the hostility of the Irish to Saxon domination.

Jeff Davis, in his late message seemed to rely on the assistance of John Bull—growing out of the seizure of Slidell and Mason If that should fail, the conclusion seemed to be that the rebel game is about up

The secession press don't think the Union is worth preserving by the spilling of blood. Gen Jackson said "The Union must be preserved without blood, if possible; but it must be preserved at all hazards and AT ANY PRICE" But secessionists don't pretend to walk in Old Hickory's footsteps

Jim Lane says that the slave holders regret more the running away of a negro than the loss of a white from the family

Fort Yuma is now getting to be a second Fort Lafayette. Deserters for Dixie overland are regularly caught, when passing that way, and set to work on the fortifications under proper guard Showalter is there His only crime, the Advertiser says, was his intention to join the rebel army.

The expedition from Cairo for the river below, is rapidly organizing It will consist of a fleet of eleven gun boats, mounting over a hundred heavy guns, thirty eight floating batteries of sixty-four columbiads each, and twenty eight river steamers.

It is proposed to obliterate South Carolina by dividing her territory between North Carolina and Georgia

A LAKE OF QUICKSILVER —The Grass Valley National says that in 1841, while one Father Gonzales was acting as a Catholic missionary at Cavorca in the Mexican province of Sonora, an Indian from the North of the Colorado, and probably from the neighborhood of the present San Bernardino county, California presented him with a small jar of pure quicksilver, assuring him that "at the foot of the hill in his country there was a small lake of this heavy water"—being entirely ignorant of the name and qualities of this production of nature His extreme simplicity, and the lack of a competent interpreter, prevented him from obtaining more explicit information

WHOLESALE DESERTION OF ENGLISH SOLDIERS —The Buffalo Commercial says that a gentleman who arrived from Toronto, where he had resided since May, states that out of the thousand English soldiers recently stationed at that place nearly six hundred have deserted He relates instances where the men left in squads Many were retaken, but the majority managed to escape

GEN. SUMNER'S FAMILY.—Gen Sumner's daughters are married to Virginians One Eugene E McLean, is now an [illegible] in Richmond He was a Quartermaster in the regular service at Baltimore where he resigned at the beginning of the present difficulties The other Armistead Long, was a Lieutenant in the regular service, and was an aid to Gen Sumner when he resigned and went South Gen Sumner's two sons are Lieutenants in the regular cavalry, one in the First and the other in the Fifth Regiment

WHAT THE REBELS ARE DOING —The once smiling valley of Shenandoah in Virginia is a desolation The rebels have robbed, especially the Union families, of all their blankets, and took for their army Recently they went into Charlestown, robbed families of all their stores for the army, and carried off with them the stove pipes The people are in distress for means to live

The San Francisco Herald expects, by the next dispatches, to learn that Price's army has been taken by Generals Pope and Sigel—as, according to the most reliable information, Price has been caught in a trap.

The San Francisco Herald, of the 30th ult, suggests in speaking of the late winter storms that no further overland dispatches may be received for a week from that date

Some of the party who under [illegible] the [illegible] have returned. All they [illegible] [illegible] shown their [illegible] [illegible] the same thing [illegible] [illegible] to leave this valley [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

"[illegible]"

"[illegible] you are [illegible]"—WASHINGTON

"The Union must be preserved without blood, if possible; but it must be preserved at all hazards and at any cost."—ANDREW JACKSON.

"Man the Life-boat! Secessionists!"

As the measures of Government are culminating in the destruction of secession in the South as well as here, the Advertiser in agony for the fate of its party, cries out, "Man the life boat!"

We shan't wonder if the life boat is manned and the arms scattered about in the Southern part of the State, and the ball cartridges carried off from Fort Hoskins, are gathered up placed in the secession boat, with Lane for commander and Adair for lieutenant—and the boat plunged into the surf, with the hopes of reaching Queen Victoria's dominions, where these patriots are properly appreciated "Man the life boat," by all means.

THE REBELS ON THE POTOMAC LINE ON THE OFFENSIVE —J W Simonton writes to the San Francisco Bulletin—"It appears that Gen McClellan is now postponing an advance into Virginia, in the hope that the rebels will themselves open the ball, by making an attack on our lines It has been well ascertained that there has been a fearful quarrel between Jeff Davis and Beauregard, because Davis would not consent to the war policy of the latter—a bold dash against the Federal lines, with a view to wintering in Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia Virginia, too, is getting sick of having all the fun on her soil She has been devastated and destroyed by the hordes which have wasted her substance and eaten out her very heart They think there should be a rebel advance and that Maryland should be made to share the terrible burden imposed upon her, on behalf of the Cotton States And now the invasion of South Carolina by Federal troops has made it imperative on the rebel leaders to make an attack on our lines, as the only means of keeping the army in Virginia from returning to their homes in the Cotton States to protect them from our Duponts and Shermans

Our Southern reports all agree that the defensive policy has been abandoned—that Beauregard has carried his point, and that we shall speedily have active operations on the Potomac It has been perfectly evident for a long time that every week's delay strengthened us while it weakened them. They perceive this fact, at last, themselves, and as they have failed to force or entice Gen McClellan into a premature attack, they find themselves unable to hold out longer And now, for the first time in months past, it begins to look as though the rebels would really make an effort to seize Maryland and the Federal Capital If they do, they will fail and the Union forces will seize that opportunity to break their lines and press them at once to their destruction In all probability the curtain will have fallen on this scene of the drama before my letter reaches you J W S

THE REFORM COURTEOUS —While Floyd the gun thief, was Secretary of War, he stole three thousand United States muskets and sent them South for his friends and fellow conspirators Also, he stole for their benefit a large number of great guns, but found himself unable to carry off all these dangerous [illegible] There remained in Northern navy yards a number of large Dahlgreen guns, which could not be secured for the use of South Carolina The gun-thief's object was not only to arm the conspirators but to disarm the nation, and accordingly, what he could not carry off he tried to destroy He caused a sham survey to be held on the Dahlgreens, and they were in due time condemned and sold for old iron. Our readers probably remember how [illegible] of these guns were recovered when the rebellion broke out A correspondent informs us that they are now on board one of the vessels which recently [illegible] the Port Royal forts, and have their revenge on the men who condemned them by [illegible] firing the largest kind of shell with fire [illegible] fuses to drive rebels out of their fortifications.—Post

MASON AND SLIDELL IN [illegible] —Messrs Mason and Slidell are likely to be [illegible] in close confinement and treated as condemned criminals as long as the rebel Government shall continue thus to treat Col [illegible] [illegible] gallant 69th, N Y Militia and other [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Mr [illegible] [illegible] that he will not be [illegible] subjecting [illegible] to the penalty of the law they have violated, by long [illegible] which Jeff Davis may choose to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the world may be spared the [illegible] of [illegible]

COUNTY COURT —A novel suit was on trial in this Court yesterday A Dray brought suit against Hutchins & McT to recover the sum of $175 on a promissory note, given some time in June last at O [illegible] in consideration of a mining claim with the conditions that the defendants were to work said claim and apply the results of their labor to the payment of said note Defendants allege that they worked the claim and were unable to obtain a sufficient quantity of gold to liquidate their indebtedness, and are therefore not bound to pay said note, hence the suit. The jury retired last night, and will bring in a sealed verdict this morning

STILL ICE BOUND.—The steamer Vancouver made an ineffectual attempt to reach the Washington Territory side, opposite the mouth of the Willamette She was prevented by the quantity of ice still in the Columbia

MORE MAIL —Another large mail arrived last evening overland Quite a number of packages containing papers which had got wet during the recent flood, were frozen stone-hard when taken out

"The Lamplighter's Story, Hunted Down, Detective Police, and other Nouvellettes, in one volume—by Charles Dickens," his latest work—for the copy right of which he was paid five thousand dollars This exceedingly interesting work is for sale at Charles Barrett's News Depot, Front street, Portland

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!—Wearers of Shoes and Boots, miners, everybody, take notice that J Haas & Co, have opened a Boot and Shoe Store at the room recently occupied by A R. Shipley & Co,—under the Oregonian office, where we do say there is as good a stock of the above articles as are seen anywhere The stock of boots and shoes for miners can't be beat anywhere This store can't fail of doing a good business

FROM THE CASCADES —A party of men came down from the Cascades on foot, arriving at this place on yesterday afternoon The steamer Hassaloe had not returned to the Dalles since she came down on Monday of last week. The passengers who came down on her, not finding the Idaho, concluded to abide her coming at the Cascades But they soon consumed the supplies at the hotel there, and thought best to undertake the trip on foot through to Sandy and thence to this city Accordingly they started traveling in the snow in some places about three feet deep, and with a sharp crust upon its surface but not sufficiently strong to hold their weight This made traveling very difficult and tiresome When within about twelve miles of Sandy some of the party were upon the point of giving out from fatigue, but their comrades would not permit this and adopted such means as applying sticks to their legs to induce them to go, all knowing that they would perish if left behind and alone In this way they proceeded some two miles when coming to a cluster of trees they concluded to make camp, and succeeded in raising a fire, around which they kept themselves warm as well as they could during the night They had no blankets and consequently their camp was an uncomfortable one

They made their way to the Sandy the next morning, and were [illegible] yesterday in a wagon by Capt Hall [illegible] They was a tired set of fellows

They report the Columbia frozen over for much of the way from [illegible] The

Rock me to Sleep, Mother—Rock me to Sleep

Backward, turn backward, oh Time, in your flight
Make me a child again just for to-night!
Mother come back from the echoless shore,
Take me again to your heart as of yore.
Kiss from my forehead the furrows of care,
Smooth the few silver threads out of my hair,
Over my slumbers your loving watch keep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Backward flow backward, oh tide of years!
I am so weary of toils and of tears—
Toil without recompense—tears all in vain—
Take them and give me my childhood again!
I have grown weary of dust and decay
Weary of flinging my soul wealth away—
Weary of sowing for others to reap—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Tired of the hollow, the base, the untrue,
Mother, oh mother, my heart calls for you!
Many a summer the grass has grown green,
Blossomed and faded—our faces between—
Yet, with strong yearning and passionate pain,
Long I to-night for your presence again;
Come from the silence so long and so deep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Over my heart, in days that are flown,
No love like mother love ever was known—
No other worship abides and endures,
Faithful, unselfish and patient like yours;
None like a mother can charm away pain,
From the sick soul and world-weary brain;
Slumber's soft calm o'er my heavy lids creep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Come, let your brown hair, just lighted with gold,
Fall on your shoulders again as of old—
Let it fall o'er my forehead to-night,
Shading my faint eyes away from the light,
For with its sunny-edged shadows once more
Haply will throng the sweet visions of yore;
Lovingly, softly, its bright billows sweep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Mother, dear mother, the years have been long
Since I last hushed to your lullaby song
Since then, and unto my soul it shall seem
Womanhood's years have been but a dream
Clasped to your arms in loving embrace
With your light lashes just sweeping my face,
Never hereafter to wake or to weep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

A SINGULAR TRACT.—A penny tract has appeared, which reads as follows.

"What I Was and What I Am.—"Dear Reader.—I once resided with 2 Tim. iii. 4, and walked in Eph. ii. 2 and my continual conversation at that time is still recorded in Eph. ii. 3.

"I heard one day that an inheritance had been purchased for me, and a description of it reached me; you will find it at 1 Peter, i. 4.

"One who resides in Heb. iv. 14 had purchased it, and paid an extraordinary price for it; but to say the truth, I did not believe this report, as I was entirely unacquainted with the MAN, and long experience had convinced me that strangers NEVER gave favors through love alone, and friends seldom gave any favors that cost much.

"However, I called at 2 Tim. iii. 16, as my own prospects at Eph. ii. 12 were as bad as they could be.

"I found the house I sought for at 2 Cor. v. 1, and the invitations to it, which you will see put up at Isa. iv. 1, 2, and by John at vii. 37, are wonderfully inviting to the poor and needy.

"The house has only one door, and it was some time before I saw the door, at John x. 9.

"My permanent address will now be 2 Cor. v. 1; but if you call any day at Heb. iv. 16 you will meet me and many others. We are daily in the habit of meeting there.

"If you call, attend to what the servant says at Luke xiv. 22, and you may depend upon what the servant says."

ASTOR THE MILLIONAIRE SERVING IN THE WAR.—John Jacob Astor, [William B. Astor?] has joined the staff of Major General McClellan, with the commission of Lieutenant-Colonel. Mr. Astor is the representative of $30,000,000 worth of property, with an income of $2,000,000 per annum. He has been from the beginning one of the most active and efficient executive members of the Union Defense Committee of New York, and has given his time, knowledge and money, without stint for the cause of the country and for the suppression of the rebellion. Those foreigners who doubt whether our best men have much interest in the Union have a very satisfactory reply in this action of Mr. Astor. Such capitalists as he is see very plainly, as Shepherd Knapp said some time ago, that if the Union is worth nothing then nothing else within its bounds has any value.—Eastern paper.

If you are not satisfied with the necessaries of life, see whether you can't satisfy yourself with repining after luxuries.

Conundrum for Greely. Why is Greely like Richard III? Because the advance on Richmond floored him.

"Do you like cod fish balls, Mr. Wiggins?" Mr. Wiggins, hesitatingly. "I really don't know, Miss, I never recollect of attending one."

The venom of a slanderous tongue ultimately poisons its own possessor.

The feeling is often the deeper truth, the opinion the more superficial one.

The Moon's condition just now closely resembles that of most of the Secession editors. She is rapidly approaching her last quarter.

The Richmond papers complain piteously because the North has cut off the Southern supply of quinine. We have cut off their bark, and we shall soon stop their bite.

"Joe, why were you out so late last night?" "It wasn't very late—only a quarter to 12." "How dare you sit there and tell me that lie? I was awake when you came in, and it was 3 o'clock." "Well isn't 3 a quarter to 12?"

The following notice was posted on the bulletin of a Western Postoffice.

"Lost—a red kaf. He had a white spot on 1 of his legs. He was a she kaf. I will give thre dolers to evribudi that will bring hym hum."

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines are pleasant without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and perfect cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. As a permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption.

But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life is corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures.—Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business strictly confidential. Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who, having recovered their former health, and impelled by gratitude, make known their cases and the remedial agent, and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society require only that we command their publicity, and we commend them especially to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrolled passion in youth, depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances months of their treatment I found to my unutterable horror that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their nature, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy, and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who, after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice my head became clear, and my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study and want of resolution, the frightful exciting and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

MARYSVILLE, June 3d, 1855.
DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, [illegible] entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not be excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms, and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can truly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me gratefully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation not only as an act of scientific skill but that of humanity also. About two years ago I suddenly and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with in attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to [illegible] seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances and my inability to reward him for his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
